

RCO/WOA class: Choosing and Performing Contemporary Organ Music with RCO Director, Tom Bell

Saturday 28th March, 2-5pm
St Cassian's,
Chaddesley Corbett,
near Kidderminster DY10 4SD

Modern music is seen as strange, difficult, inaccessible, and even off-putting. There is no need for this to be the case. One of the glories of modern music is its huge diversity of style and difficulty level. Truly, there is something for everyone. Perhaps you are on the look-out for something new which appeals to you, or maybe you would like to learn to appreciate modern music more deeply? Either way, Tom's class for you!

As a player you may have some appropriate works in your repertoire already, or a piece or two which you are learning; if so, bring them to Tom's class. If not, a good place to start would be the works commissioned for 'The Orgelbüchlein Project', a project with which Tom has been involved in recent times

For more details, and to book your place, go to the RCO website:

<https://www.rco.org.uk/events/Choosing%20and%20Performing%20Contemporary%20Orgna%20Music>

RCO and/or WOA Members £36; non-members £43 (places for observers: £10 for RCO/WOA members and £15 for non-members)

